The girl named Sadako was two years old, when the bomb fell on Hiroshima and she got sick from the radiation that was released. In the hospital She folded many cranes, Her desire was "world peace".

When she died at the age of eleven, she was buried with the cranes she folded. A large statue of Sadako was created. With both hands she holds a large golden Crane up in the air "the symbol for peace."

This is the place where on August 6, 1945 the first atomic bomb was dropped. Now, every year thousands of children come together to fold cranes. They do this for world peace and place all these cranes at the peace monument.

Peace monument of Sadako in Hiroshima

My name is Marten Brouwer Sale. Five years ago, I created thousands of red cranes from folded from one piece of paper. I donated this string of 1000 cranes to the peace museum in Hiroshima. Because of this donation, Mayor Akiba invited me to visit Hiroshima.

This year I folded one thousand white cranes from one piece of paper and it is my desire to donate this to the city of Nagasaki, where on August 9, 1945 the second atomic bomb was dropped. These cranes, along with your wishes and cranes, I want to bring cranes to Japan and donate them to the museum.
